Beyond the Cosmetics Counter – Learn About the Latest Skin Care Techniques and Products at MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com

TUCSON, AZ (March 2, 2011) – When the topic of skin care arises, it tends to raise a specific question: of the myriad treatments and products available, who would best know which ones are right for your individual circumstance? Fortunately, MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com offers valuable information about the latest skin care products and procedures.

“Our professionals at Maloney Plastic Surgery take pride in providing personalized care for our clients,” said Christopher T. Maloney, Jr., M.D. “The goal of our skin care nurses and licensed aesthetician is to target your specific needs and to customize an individualized care program that will provide you with maximum results. MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com makes information about our services and products conveniently accessible and available to anyone at any time.”

Developed in conjunction with their cosmetic surgery practice, MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com provides visitors with information about the latest skin care treatments and procedures using state-of-the-art professional products, helping to achieve optimum results. Their extensive selection of professional skin care products and in-office procedures are custom formulated to rejuvenate and enhance each individual client’s skin and body. Maloney Plastic Surgery offers the most current and effective skin care services available, including Botox, chemical peels, microdermabrasion, and fillers, to produce both positive and professional results. Skin care consultations are free of charge. Lindsay Moss, Clinical Coordinator, said “We are also researching and analyzing new treatments that are available to see if this fits the needs of our clients. Many of those reviews are seen on our web site. Or please call us and ask about us about what’s new.”

The team is experienced and state certified, and also certified in micro-peels, micro-dermabrasion, superficial and medium depth chemical peels, laser hair removal and intensified pulse light therapy (IPL-Photo Facial).

MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com offers information about top-of-the-line professional skin care products from well-known manufacturers, such as Obaji, IS Clinical, and Skinceuticals, just to name a few.

Dr. Maloney is also pleased to introduce the M-Line, Maloney Plastic Surgery’s private label of high quality skin care products designed specifically for the unique Southwest desert environment. The exclusive M-Line products are custom-formulated to rejuvenate, restore and enhance a client’s natural skin tone by targeting their skin’s specific needs to achieve maximum results. Dr. Maloney’s M-Line is designed to promote the skin’s natural healing process and help minimize scarring following a cosmetic procedure.

For more information about these professional skin care procedures and products, or to schedule a free consultation and experience the benefits of M-Line products first-hand, please visit MaloneyPlasticSurgery.com.
